The Trove, our new children's library, has been called "an innovative center of learning and fun" by The Journal News. It will be a one-of-a-kind educational environment for kids and parents.

Our fall 2005 opening is on the horizon and we have $150,000 left to raise to fully furnish and equip the space.

If you're excited about the project, now is the time to help. Look at our web site today www.thetrove.org to download a pledge form and view current construction progress photos.

Stay tuned for announcements about fall opening events and an exclusive ticketed preview party.
